

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction	pag.	7
Chapter I - Theoretical Foundations	»	10
1.1. The Event as a Phenomenon and Its Historical Evolution	»	10
1.2. From “Studies on Events” to “Event Studies”: A Shift in Academic Identity	»	18
1.3. Bounding the Phenomenon: Defining the Event and Its Core Attributes	»	24
1.4. Event Categorisation and Foundational Concepts	»	28
Chapter II - Managing Event Complexity: From Structure Design to Competency Models	»	42
2.1. From Project to Event Management	»	42
2.2. The Event Organisation and Its Environment: A Contingency Perspective	»	51
2.3. Organisational Configurations in the Event Industry	»	56
2.4. Event Manager’s Role and Functions	»	70
2.5. Competency Models for Event Managers: A Synthesis of the Literature	»	77
Chapter III - The Definition of an Event Manager Competency Profile	»	85
3.1. Research Objectives and Rationale	»	85
3.2. Research Design and Methodology	»	87
3.3. Data Collection and Preliminary Analysis	»	95
3.4. Data Analysis and Findings	»	98
The Event Manager as a Laboratory for Modern Management: Final Reflections	»	125
Bibliography / References	»	128