

It is evening.
It's almost bedtime.
But Guido has things to do first.
He must get his friends ready for bed.

First Hairy Bear.

Then Wild Monster.
And finally Crazy Doll.
«Have you brushed your teeth?» he asks them.
Yes, they all answer.
«I'll have to put on your nappies now» says Guido.
«You are still small.
And small children,
small monsters
and small dolls
and small bears
need nappies.
But I'm big and mum has stopped
making me wear them».

It's night-time. Everyone's asleep.
Well, not really everyone. Guido has woken up.
His bed is all wet.
He shouts out: «Mum! Mum!
There's a hippo in my bed!».
